KEN UPCHURCH WRITES...

In this life we don't often take advantage of all the opportunities that the Lord presents us with, and sometimes we are so busy that we simply don't make time. Your support of TZ 2000 has been one of those wonderful times when those who know the work have not walked by it, forgotten it or not become involved in it. Your support and efforts have been passionate, loving kind and sacrificial. You have each one taken a personal interest in seeing the truth taught in Tanzania and it simply cannot be better than that on this earth.

To think of each of you, to know the sacrifices you have made, to understand the goodness that is in each of you is a great blessing to those who are on the ground working in Tanzania and to me as I try to express for them the joy and gratefulness of their hearts to your hearts.

You are a wonderful people, a peculiar people with actions that match your intentions. Thank you for making TZ 2000 and all who benefit from it a light for the lost of Tanzania and a joy to those who treasure your contributions and love for a great work. God bless you. Just Ken

I WAS AFRAID

By Carl Garner

Fear in the Old Testament

It was fear that prevented more than a million Israelites from living in God's "promised land." Only Joshua and Caleb trusted in God enough to enter that land promised to Abraham's "seed" (Gen. 12). "There we saw the giants, the sons of Anak...and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight" (Number 13:26-33).

Fear of his own people was at the root of Saul's rebellion following his victory over the Amalekite enemies (I Sam. 15:24). Fear can destroy a person—it can cause one to flee needlessly from imagined danger. The account of Joseph's brother's fear reveals that they sold him to Midianite traders because they were jealous, and fearful of him having power over them (Gen. 37). Daniel's defeat of fear helped him to maintain his faith in God's commandments (Dan. 1:8-21). His friends, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego sustained their lives and gained respect in Babylon by their refusal to cave in to the fear of a "fiery furnace" (Dan. 3:17).

We can understand Esther's fear when told she must approach her husband, the ruler of Persia (Est. 4:14). What she was called upon to do could have brought punishment upon her to the point of death, but she overcame fear and responded to her uncle Mordecai, saying: "...so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish" (Est 4:16). Yes, fear can bring us to the brink of great danger, but when we trust in the Lord, that fear can be overcome by faith: "In God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me" (Psa. 56:3-4).
